

Natalie Portman

I have chosen Natalie Portman, the classiest actress I know. She was born in Jerusalem, (June, the 9th, 1981) but grew up in UK. She took acting lessons very early: moreover when she starred in Leon (directed by Luc Besson), in 1994, she was only 12. During the 1990s, Portman had major roles in films like Beautiful Girls.

Quickly, she became very famous and, in addition, tried her luck in the Star Wars trilogy, in the role of Padmé Amidala.

In spite of the work (she was shooting many movies) she continued her studies at Harvard University, to study psychology.

She shot with the best directors: Woody Allen (everybody says I love you), and won all the prizes: Golden Globes Award, Saturn Awards ... But, in my opinion, she was a remarkable, talented actress in her ultimate film: Black swan. She is so beautiful, class and extremely outgoing☺! People of all races, religions, rich and poor, will love her (hommage à MLK en ces temps sombres☺!)! The Queen

has to worry about

Portman☺! Black Swan is a film, and her rendering was outstanding. She excelled in this role: she interprete Nina Sayers, a young dancer, who is in a prestigious New York City Ballet company. She is perfect but victim of the persecution mania.... Between the reality and the abstraction, Darren Aronofsky plays with us....

PS: la séance de Black Swan au Pathé Cap Sud, Samedi, est à : 15h 20 ou 22h20.
